Art Unit: 1618

Claims 1-32 are presented for examination.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

Claims 1-26 and 29-32 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over WO 98/34644.

The WO Patent teaches the use of reducing inflammation. The above reference teaches the steps of 1) bringing the injured tissues or "pre-injured tissues" with a photosensitizing agent capable of penetrating into the tissue 2) exposing the tissue to the light having wave length absorbed by photosensitizing agent for a time sufficient to reduce or prevent the inflammation. See the abstract and pages 20-28. The above reference differs from the claimed invention in reducing inflammation in tissues exposed to photodynamic therapy and the tissues that overlap with the tissues that have been treated with normal dose PDT. It would have been obvious to a person skilled in the art to use a low dose PDT for the treatment of inflammation, considering that the tissues overlapping with tissues subjected to photodynamic therapy are considered to be pre-injured tissues, which reads on the teachings of the above reference. Furthermore, the use of normal dose photodynamic for the reduction or prevention of inflammation is taught by the above reference.

One skilled in the art would have been motivated to employ the teachings of the above reference, since it relates to the use of normal dose photodynamic therapy for the prevention or reduction of inflammation in general in injured and pre-injured tissues. To treat inflammation arising from photodynamic therapy or any other source, using low dose photodynamic therapy taught by the prior art, as an anti-inflammatory agent would have been obvious to a person skilled in the art in the absence of evidence to the contrary. Applicant has presented no evidence to establish the unexpected or unobvious nature of the claimed invention, and as such, claims 1-26 and 29-32 are properly rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103.

Claims 27 and 28 are objected to as being dependent on a rejected claim.
